BIOGRAPHY

Born in Rome in 1982, Daniel Dee began his career at just 15 years old, quickly becoming one of the youngest resident DJs of the iconic NRG Club in Ciampino (Rome), home to one of Italy's most influential progressive-trance Sunday nights. Immersed in the golden era of Rome's and Italian club culture, throughout the years he refined his sound toward melodic techno and progressive house.

In 1998 he became a regular presence on Future Zone (Mondo Radio), one of central Italy's leading progressive house radio shows. As his musical vision expanded, Daniel entered the studio world, producing original tracks released on several labels, including the legendary Bonzai Records.

Today, Daniel is focused on innovative concepts, such as Expander as resident DJ, and through Rome's nightlife ecosystem. His current trajectory includes a strategic move toward the international circuit, as the progressive scene in Italy remains limited, though experiencing a rising come-back thanks to the work of some projects, like the Expander format.
